UNIVERSITY

SRS Reminder - Final Date for Students to Submit

20 September Steps to completing your SRS application

Before you can apply for SRS, you need to apply for undergraduate admission through UAC. When you do, you'll be issued with a UAC application number, which you'll need to commence your SRS application.

There are no fees to apply for SRS.

1. Log in to the SRS application using your UAC application number and PIN. A series of questions and prompts will then guide you through the application process.
2. Enter your Year 11 studies, if prompted to do so in your application.

Applicants in the NSW and ACT school systems: You usually don't have to provide results of your Year 11 studies with your SRS application as UAC obtains them directly from the relevant educational authorities. If you are not prompted to enter your Year 11 studies or to provide documents there is no need to do so.

All other applicants: Enter the details of your Year 11 studies and upload a PDF of your Year 11 school report. If you don't have the PDF ready to upload when you first apply, upload it later by logging back in to SRS Check & Change (which you also access from the UAC website). You must upload your school report in order to have your studies assessed and considered by institutions as part of your SRS application. Uploaded documents cannot be edited or deleted but can be replaced up to three times.

3. Upload institution-specific documents, if required.
4. Review your application summary.
5. Accept the declaration.
6. Download your Confirmation of Application.

You can only submit one SRS application.

NOMINATING YOUR COURSE PREFERENCES You don't need to nominate any courses in your SRS application because it is automatically linked to your list of course preferences in your UAC application for undergraduate admission. https://www.uac.edu.au/current-applicants/schools-recommendation-schemes?utm_medium=email&utm_campaign=Directions%20July%202020&utm_content=Directions%20July%202020+CID_ae8ec69d507c97a630ba4614f76ec32c&utm_source=Email%20marketing%20software&utm_term=Schools%20Recommendation%20Schemes

EAS How to apply

Before starting your application, check the eligibility criteria for each EAS disadvantage and the general requirements for all documents (below).

STEP 1 - Submit your undergraduate application through UAC.

STEP 2 - Select 'Apply for EAS' at the bottom of the undergraduate application confirmation page or log in to your completed undergraduate application and select 'EAS'.

STEP 3 - Open the category of disadvantage you wish to claim. Select the specific disadvantages that apply to you and answer the follow-up questions. When you have selected all the relevant disadvantages in that category, click 'Save'. Repeat for each category you wish to claim.

STEP 4 - Agree to the Declaration and Authority and submit your EAS application.

STEP 5 - Download your Confirmation of Application and the document cover sheet for each of your claimed disadvantages. The document cover sheet details the eligibility criteria for the disadvantage and the supporting documents you need to provide.

STEP 6 - Upload completed cover sheets and supporting documents to your application at least two weeks before the undergraduate offer round in which you wish to be considered (or as advised in the key dates).

You can only submit one EAS application in each admissions period.

How to prepare for a successful audition - University of Sydney Conservatorium

Top 5 tips for students

To study at the Sydney Conservatorium of Music, you will need to audition. This can be a nerve-racking experience – but it doesn't have to be. Here, students share their advice on how to prepare for your big moment. An audition is your opportunity to show us your abilities, and it allows us to assess your skills and discuss your commitment. Here are five tips from those who've already been there to help you prepare:

1. Register for your audition online

If you can't attend in person, you can submit a video-recorded audition. Your recording must be no more than 4 months old.

2. Double check all of the requirements

Make sure you follow the audition requirements for your specialisation. If you're auditioning on an instrument or voice, remember you need to have an accompanist.

3. It all comes down to sound quality

Whatever equipment you're using to record your audition, do your best to maximise the sound quality by choosing your location carefully. If you can, try and use an ensemble room or recital hall. It doesn't need to be recorded professionally, a simple ZOOM recorder is enough.

4. It's not what you play that counts, it's how you play

When selecting repertoire, you want to play it comfortably and well. A piece that's achievable is better than going for something that's difficult. The audition panel will look for quality of performance.

5. Show your personality

An audition panel consists of musicians. Show them that you're one too and that you have a passion for music. Be technically proficient, but don't fret about technique – they'll be on the lookout for potential.

But when you think about how important the feet are for mobility, independence and every day activities, you will understand what an important role podiatrists play. There is a range of movements of the feet and lower limb that can be classified as “normal” and it can be challenging to define abnormal movement

Often people who have played a lot of sport when growing up become interested in this area as they understand the importance of the feet

Living on Campus

If you are heading to university next year then it is highly likely that you have been considering your accommodation options. Residential colleges and halls of residence are the most popular options, and ones which are commonly associated with the university experience.

Most students choose to live at colleges and halls of residence because they provide a great opportunity to live close to (or on) campus, become totally immersed in university life and make lifelong friends. While student apartments and shared rental houses may also offer proximity to campus and good social opportunities, residential colleges and halls pride themselves on the well-rounded experience they offer.

What is the Harding Miller Education Foundation Scholarship?

The Harding Miller Education Foundation offers life-changing scholarships to young women in Australian public high schools. Applicants must be in year 8 in 2020 to apply.

Since 2016, the HMEF has supported over 470 girls across 320+ schools in every state and territory of Australia. The HMEF's mission is to bridge the long-term societal gap of opportunity for girls within the public-school system for those who have high academic potential and are experiencing challenging socio-economic circumstances.

Each scholarship is valued at $20,000 over four years from years 9-12 and provides critical resources and support to enable our scholars to not only finish high school but to reach their academic potential and build direct pathways to tertiary education.

Harding Miller scholarships are the most generous scholarships available to public high school students across Australia, but we do not write cheques and hope for the best, we provide a personal infrastructure, enrichment programs and mentoring that enables them to navigate their own pathway towards tertiary education, a fulfilling career, and a purposeful future.

Life Among the Stars – Einstein Lecture

17 August. 6.30pm online

Less than two decades ago, wondering whether other stars really did host planets was a matter for science fiction writers rather than scientists. Today, we've gone from complete ignorance, to a treasure trove of 'exoplanets' – different sized planets that orbit around other stars – thanks to innovation, persistence, and meticulous measurement. But what does this mean for the search for life beyond Earth? Adding this diversity of exoplanets spread across our galaxy, to the planets and moons in our very own solar system, only makes the search for alien life more complicated.
